

Im Grünen In the countryside green angle shades of colour rectitude never lies in pity Dégas' keep on writing lines light is rectilinear in actuality orange shouts far too loud green and orange louder still green and orange And purple what's the world coming to in the countryside where spring brings fresh green to everything

3 April 2012

'Fascists, reactionaries, people who tolerated green, purple, or orange all impure.'

Winifred Nicholson on Mondrian in London in 1938
